Garnishment is an American legal process for collecting a monetary judgment on behalf of a plaintiff from a defendant. Garnishment allows the plaintiff (the "garnishor") to take the money or property of the debtor from the person or institution that holds that property (the "garnishee"). A similar legal mechanism called execution allows the seizure of money or property held directly by the debtor.

But first, let's look at why it probably doesn't matter anyway. If you want to retire really early, you generally have to save a large percentage of your income. Like 50%+ of your net income. And if you're doing that, chances are that you can both max out your retirement accounts and have to save a significant amount of money in a taxable account anyway.
