Fantasy is a genre of speculative fiction set in a fictional universe, often without any locations, events, or people referencing the real world. Its roots are in oral traditions, which then became literature and drama. From the twentieth century it has expanded further into various media, including film, television, graphic novels and video games.

A scene transition takes characters and readers to a new location, a new time, or a new point of view. Transitions can also be used to show a character's change in heart or frame of mind. Transitions are important in fiction because the writer can't possibly portray or account for every moment in a character's day, week, or life.
