The All-Union Leninist Young Communist League (Russian: Всесоюзный комсомол) is a youth organization of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. It was founded in 1919 and dissolved in 1989. It was the largest youth organization in the Soviet Union, with over 100 million members at its peak. It was responsible for organizing youth activities, including sports, education, and political work. It also played a role in the recruitment and training of young communists for the party. The organization was a key part of the Soviet Union's youth policy and played a significant role in the lives of young people in the USSR.
